Speaking of the Afghan War

"The men and women of Afghanistan are building a nation that is free, and proud...and America is honored to be their friend!"
—George W Bush

"Trust a snake more than a prostitute and a prostitute more than an Afghan."
—Rudyard Kipling

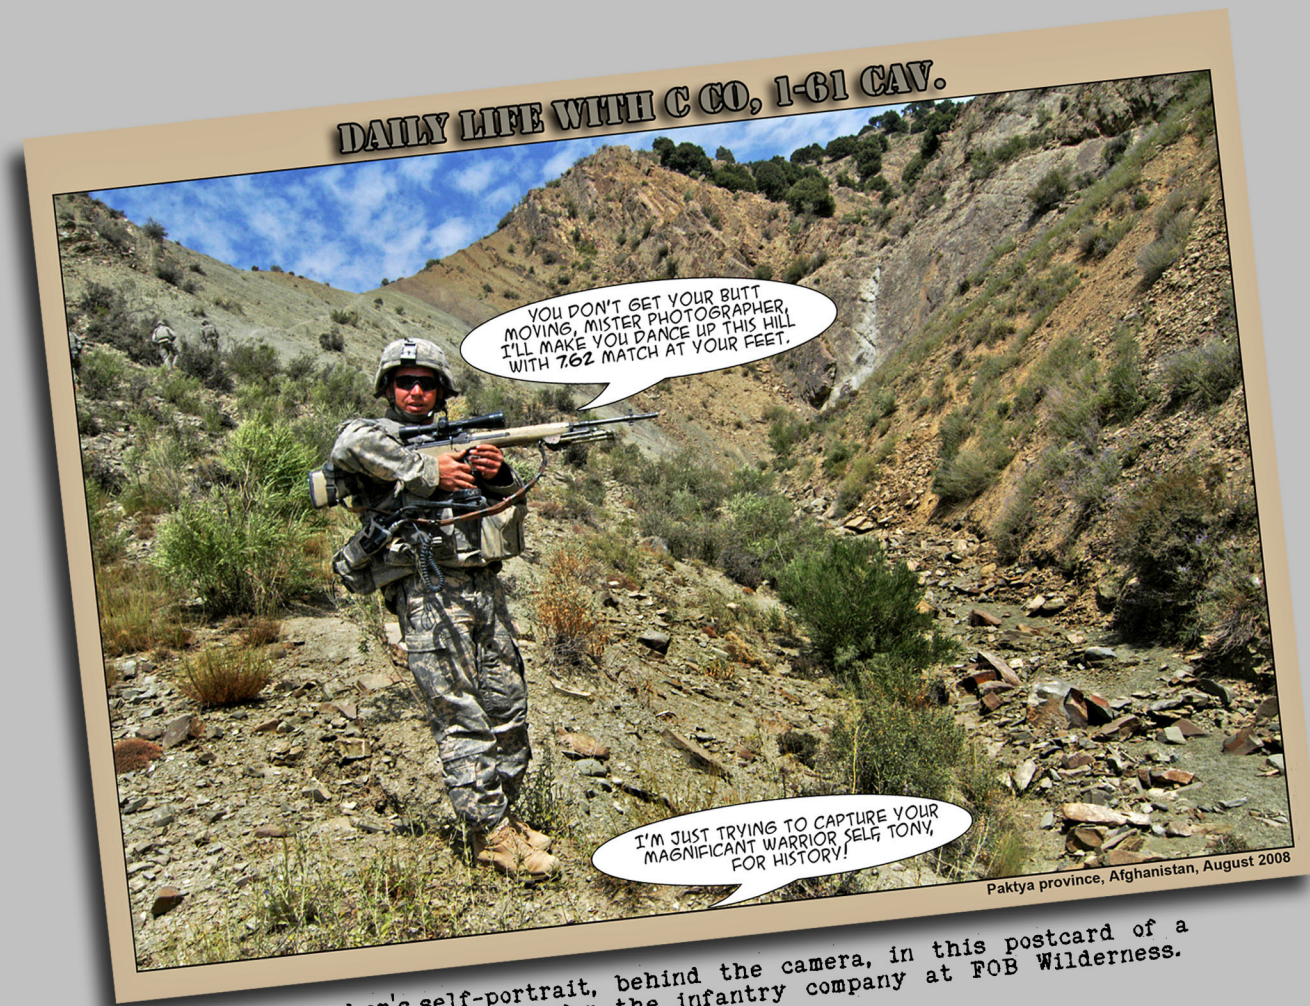

In 2009, political blogger Diana West, promoting my treatise Flirting With Afghanistan and thus discovering the above photograph, would spread it and the postcard worldwide in her passion to increase awareness of the U.S. military's turning a blind eye to Afghan man/boy pederasty.
